Material: SPC flooring (stone plastic composite flooring) is an environmentally friendly composite floor made mainly from polyvinyl chloride (PVC) and stone powder (calcium powder). It features excellent wear resistance, water resistance, and strong stability, and does not contain harmful substances such as formaldehyde.

Material: WPC flooring (wood-plastic composite flooring) is a new type of environmentally friendly composite material made by blending wood fibers with plastics (such as polyethylene and polyvinyl chloride). It combines the natural texture of wood with the water resistance and corrosion resistance of plastics, and is widely used for indoor and outdoor flooring.
